

Turtleback Mountain Preserve Driving Directions and Public Access Map

Updated November 15, 2006

The citizens of San Juan County purchased Turtleback Mountain through the San Juan County Land Bank with the assistance of the San Juan Preservation Trust and the Trust for Public Land. Turtleback's 1,575 acres are open to the public for day-use, pedestrian access.

In the coming months, the Land Bank will be assessing the ecological and cultural resources of Turtleback Mountain. Public comment will be requested during the development of a detailed management plan for the preserve. For more information, call the Land Bank at 360-378-4402 or visit http://www.co.san-juan.wa.us/land_bank/.

Please help protect the mountain by observing the following rules:

- Pedestrian access only.
- No fires or camping.
- Dogs must be leashed.
- No hunting.
- Take nothing and leave no trace.
